CURIOUS COLLECTIONS

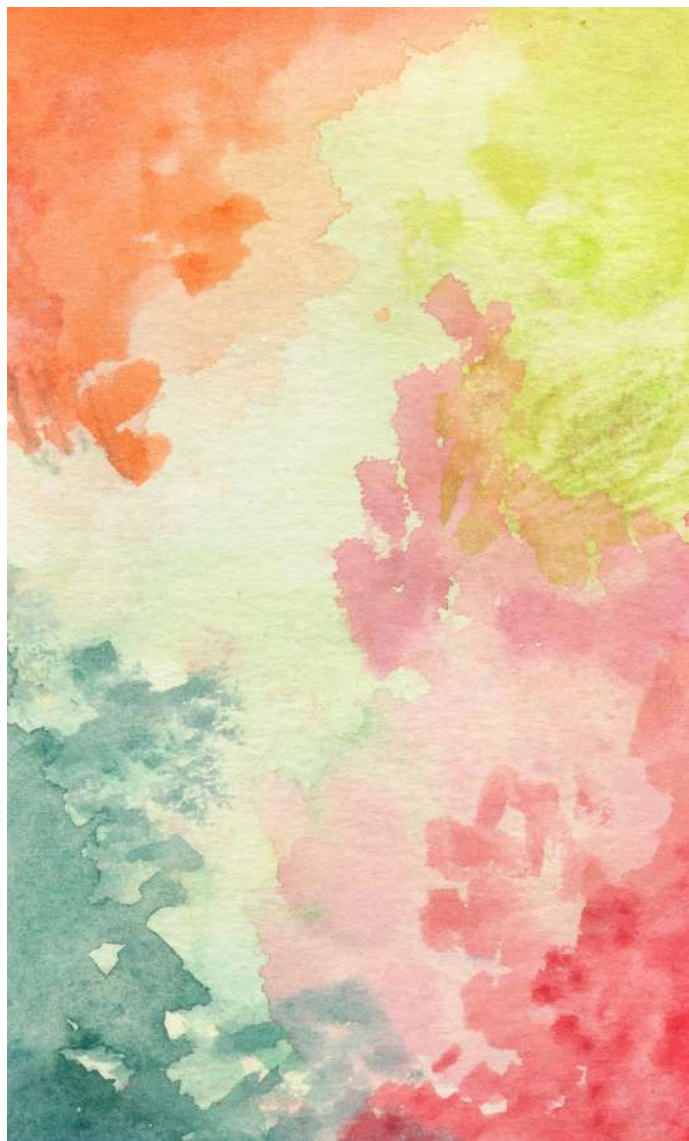

Dear Traveller, we proudly present you our 5th menu.

A Menagerie is an establishment of luxury and curiosity. As every collection has its own theme, so too have the drinks. Every chapter is inspired by a different 'Menagerie'. We do not offer you the ingredients, but instead offer you flavour descriptions. We invite you to choose based on what you want to experience. However, the ingredients are not a secret, please feel free to ask.

In general we draw our inspiration from the old tradition of the Dutch Menagerie; when Amsterdam was a bustling and bustling port city, filled with sailors who paid their bar tabs with curiosities they gathered during their time at sea. Due to this, bars would have large collections of animals, curiosities and strange objects. They would display these collections proudly, said bars and inns functioned as Menageries and became major attractions.

You might think that the tradition of a Menagerie is old and forgotten, but you'd be wrong. This menu is inspired by these establishments of luxury and curiosity, past and present!

Love, Rosalia

Jenever is the traditional Dutch spirit, being made as early as the 1500's. This malted grain spirit, distilled with juniper berries and other spices is as complex to make as it tastes: ranging from a crisp gin style to a heavy whiskey style.

However this spirit isn't just to be enjoyed neat, Jenever also works beautifully in cocktails. Interested? Visit our 'BLAAUW JAN' or 'DUTCH COURAGE' section of the menu to try it.
